Question No. :23

With respect to the question above (NYPA-22) regarding Con Edison's Exhibit __ (AP-8) page 1 of 2, Line 13, please provide your projections from December 31, 2007 through each month of the rate year (or quarterly if monthly is not available) for each component of Excess Rate Base over Capitalization Adjustment. If not all components are available, please provide the projections for those that are.

Response:

The Company (and other utilities in New York State) has traditionally used the historic year excess rate base over capitalization adjustment as a proxy for the rate year. Therefore, the Company has not prepared projections of these components for an EB/Cap adjustment for the period requested.
