Public Hearings Set for RG&E and NYSEG Wind Storm Investigation
— Governor Cuomo Directed Investigation Into Utilities’ Preparation for and Response to Windstorm that Left More Than 100,000 in the Dark —

ALBANY — The New York State Department of Public Service (Department) announced it will hold four public statement hearings to receive public comment on Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation’s (RG&E) and New York State Electric & Gas Corporation’s (NYSEG) preparation for and response to the severe windstorms that swept through parts of Western New York and the Finger Lakes causing widespread power outages on March 8 and 9, 2017. On March 11, Governor Andrew M. Cuomo directed the Department to conduct an investigation after the storm left more than 100,000 customers without power Western New York and the Finger Lakes.

Following widespread power outages across the state after Superstorm Sandy, Governor Cuomo directed the Department and the Public Service Commission to strengthen their oversight of utilities under a new law that took effect in 2013. Utilities are now required to develop comprehensive storm response plans that are approved annually by the PSC. The PSC approved RG&E’s and NYSEG’s plans last year, and it approved updates at its March 9 session.

To promote effective emergency preparation and response, the rules require an assessment of electric utility performance after a significant outage, and hold utilities accountable for timely power restorations. The PSC can review the response of utility companies to ensure they are adhering to approved emergency response plans, and can assess penalties, based on the results of the investigation.

As part of its investigation, the Department will conduct public statement hearings so that affected RG&E and NYSEG customers may present public comments in response to the following questions:

- How were you affected by the outages?
- Do you think you received timely, accurate and adequate information from your utility company about what was happening before, during and after the service outages?
- Did you attempt to contact your utility for information or assistance immediately before, during or after the outages, and did you get the response you were requesting?
- What are your overall impressions about how your utility responded to the outages?
- What were your reasons for those impressions?
- What are your recommendations about actions you believe your utility should or should not have taken before, during and after the service outages?
What actions do you recommend the Department take in light of all that you know regarding these events?
