DPS HOLDS PUBLIC HEARINGS TO SEEK INPUT ON PSEG LONG ISLAND ELECTRIC RATE REQUEST — Public Comment Sought on Three-Year Rate Proposal —

Albany—the New York State Department of Public Service (DPS) announced today that it will conduct public statement hearings in Riverhead and Smithtown (Suffolk County), Mineola (Nassau County), and Far Rockaway (Queens) to seek public input and comment on PSEG Long Island’s three-year electric rate proposal.

On January 30, 2015, PSEG Long Island submitted its three-year rate plan for 2016 through 2018 for review by the DPS in accordance with Public Service Law § 3-b and Public Authorities Law § 1020-f. Public input and comments on the plan are requested and will be taken into account by the DPS in its review and in the development of its recommendations.

PSEG Long Island proposes an approximate 2 percent increase in aggregate annual electric revenues, which would result in an approximate 4 percent annual increase in the delivery charge portion of the customer bills for each of the next three years. In addition, PSEG Long Island proposes investments in the following areas: maintaining and modernizing the electric system; implementing enhanced technologies to help customers manage their accounts; improving infrastructure to address storm preparedness and response; and improving system reliability by implementing an industry best-practice Vegetation Management Program.

The public will have an opportunity to present comments at hearings before Administrative Law Judges assigned by the Department to hear this case. A verbatim transcript of the hearings will be made for inclusion in the record of the proceeding.
