

Alternating Current Transmission Upgrades Public Information Coordinator

The Public Information Coordinator will assist and advise parties and members of the public in participating in the siting and certification of major electric transmission facilities.

The public information coordinator will help assure full and adequate public participation; respond to inquiries from the public for information; assist the public in requesting records; ensure all interested persons are provided with a reasonable opportunity to participate at public meetings; and ensure that all necessary or required documents are available for public access on the department's website.
