

Hi Honor,

Would it be possible for Con Edison to provide a list, by zip code, that would show the usage of electricity and gas per service address: This may make it easier to escos to select the people that want to market to, and may reduce overall calls and headaches to customers. It may be easier for Con Edison to release a list than for 50 escos to call the same business asking the same questions over and over.

Thoughts?

Sean